

Every Neighborhood Partnership

2018

Annual Report

IN REVIEW.

2018 was a banner year for ENP. As we look at ENP's progression over the last 11 years we see an evolution of intentional focus into the areas of Literacy, Youth Development through Recreation, and Neighborhood and Resident Development;

- We have over 170 volunteers specially trained in helping kids learn to read in 14 different schools.
- Volunteers are engaging with youth during the week at recess and after-school, on Saturday mornings, and even in their neighborhoods, building resilience through activities like drumming, yoga, and structured P.E.
- Neighborhood groups are forming, serving their own neighborhoods with service projects and services.
- Resident leaders are being invested in and they, in turn, are investing in their own community.
- As civic engagement is growing in our partnership, our churches, universities, and other community partners are seeing the value of collective work for collective impact.

All of this is only possible because of your support!

We still have work to do but we have formed a solid foundation with our community coming together to serve each other. The culture of learning together, serving together, and celebrating together is slowly growing in our neighborhoods.

Each effort of service has been made possible through the generosity of people like you; it is this generosity that is so integral to the accomplishment of our mission.

This year saw a further deepening in the work. No longer is ENP simply doing Saturday Sports. We are doing so much more! Our team launched three new initiatives within On-Campus Recreation.

Yoga Ed: Research-based program helps to improve overall fitness, body and health awareness, stress management, concentration, focus, schoolwork, respect, and self-confidence.

Drumming (Beat the Odds): Another researched-based program that is inclusive, culturally relevant, a lot of fun, and does not bear the stigma of therapy.

Structured P.E.: In partnership with Fresno State we assisted in helping 20 classroom teachers at Heaton facilitate fun fitness activities in a structured P.E. setting to over 450 students.

- 85 individual classrooms supported
- Over 2000 individual students served
- Over 200 yoga sessions conducted
- Over 300 Structured P.E. sessions conducted

Bonnie Yun is an example of one of our many volunteers. Bonnie is a mental health professional and certified yoga instructor who has been going to our Saturday Sports sites and sharing her love of yoga with kids and families in the community.

Campus Bible Church (Palm Campus) gave out over 50 Thanksgiving dinner baskets to families from three local Saturday Sports sites that are around the church!

N NEIGHBORHOOD DEVELOPMENT

Neighborhood Development creates place-based strategies that lead to self-sustainability, empowerment, and leadership development with residents and strategic partners to positively impact their communities. Discovering what people care about the most is the key to making our neighborhoods a healthier and better place to live!

City of Fresno & Fresno Housing Authority: This year, the City of Fresno and the Fresno Housing Authority approached ENP in asking for assistance in building relationships with residents in their target neighborhoods. ENP jumped right in!

Latin Dance Fitness: This is a dance fitness program that is led by residents who received dance training to provide a culture of health in their own neighborhood. Classes started September 2018 and averaged 13 per week, with 15 participants.

Lilia Becerril is a resident of the Vang Pao neighborhood. With the support of ENP, she is cleaning up the alleys of her neighborhood. Behind her, you can see a project we launched called "Reclaiming Alley Space" to turn unused space into a place that could be used for the community.

CITY-WIDE EQUIPPING

As with everything this past year at ENP there was also a deepening in the level of training and equipping we did.

Trauma & Resilience: We hosted several workshops that helped raising awareness about Trauma and Resilience issues in our community.

Understanding Your Hood: Our Audio Drive Tour of Fresno was used by over 325 people in 2018!

ABCD: We brought in national experts to talk about Asset Based Community Development (ABCD).

Part of our vision and role in the city is to be a connecting hub between faith, civic, business, and education leaders. Here is a list of collaboratives we are a part of:

Health

- Fresno County Health Improvement Partnership (FCHIP)
- Fresno County Trauma and Resilience Network
- Fresno County Preterm Birth Initiative
- Mental Health Community Conversations / Suicide Prevention Network

Education/Youth

- The Children's Movement
- SW Fresno Youth Alliance

Community/Economic Development

- Fresno Community & Economic Dev. Partnership
 - SW Fresno CDC
 - Better Blackstone CDC
 - St Rest EDC
- Southeast Fresno Specific Plan
- City of Fresno Restore Fresno Initiative
- Housing Authority Edison Planning Initiative
- Transformative Climate Communities Oversight (TCC)
- Shared Prosperity Network

LITERACY MENTORING

Literacy Mentors are trained and equipped to work one-on-one with students on their foundational reading skills. Volunteers build real relationships and see progress throughout the year.

We are currently at 14 elementary school sites partnering church volunteers and university students in Kinder to 2nd grade classrooms.

Teacher Highlight: Mrs. Moua at Kirk Elementary said, "I don't know what we would do without your volunteers." She requested that Literacy Mentors come back every year!

Student Highlight: A child at Eaton Elementary told Gay, a Literacy Mentor from College Church of Christ, while they were working together, "Can you come and play with me at my house?" Gay said why and the child said "Because you're fun!"

Mentor Highlight: Katherine at Hamilton Elementary loves being with the kids because, "they are so precious!" She noticed Belen's eyes watering when trying to read, and asked Belen if she was okay, Belen said "I can't see". Katherine spoke with Mrs. Rose and informed her about Belen mentioning she can't see. Mrs. Rose is going to have school nurse check her eyes and get back to Katherine about seeking support through ENP for Belen to get eye glasses if needed.

Partnerships make things happen. Literacy Mentoring at Hamilton is a partnership of 3 churches (First Congregational, Fresno First Baptist, and The Well) and active parents who combine for 25 hours a week of support.

FINANCIAL SNAPSHOT

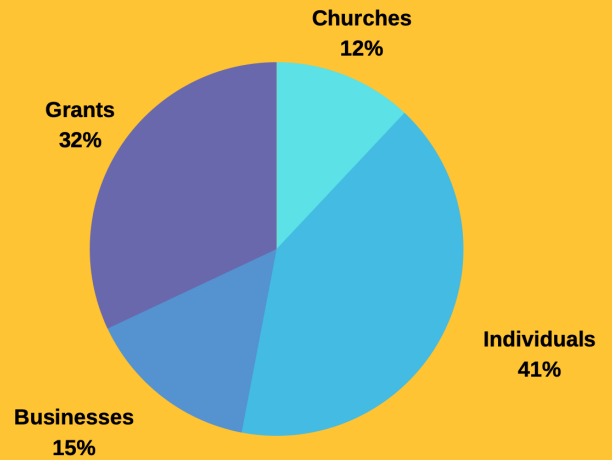

Over the course of our first 11 years we learned so much about our community, families, kids, and schools. We also did it all on a very small budget- our average annual budget was just $229,000 for the last 10 years.

However, thanks to our generous donors, local businesses, local churches, and grant funders, 2018 was by far the most impactful year we've had yet! We were able to put our experiential knowledge to use and strategically hire specialized staff who are able to go deeper, train better, and mobilize more of our community.

Our vision is so large that we could easily see doubling this effort. Your generosity of time, energy, service, and financial resources is integral to the accomplishment of our mission.

Through your financial commitment, we can continue to make an impact on the lives of the people we serve.
